In many parts of the country they might as well be slaves as free. Emigration from Louisiana is because the negroes feared that a democrat would be elected president and there would then be worse than now and that it would be more difficult to emigrate.

Arguments against the Paper Tariff

George Jones of the New York Times and Erastus Brooks of the Express made arguments to-day before the ways and means committee for the removal of the duty of twenty per cent on wood pulp. They claimed that it was owing to an advance of from to per cent in the price of pulps and a combination of paper manufacturers chiefly in the west that the prices of paper had advanced from and cents per pound prices last year to and cents now charged. It was also claimed that it was a combination of paper makers that forced the price of paper to 26 and 28 cents per lb during the war and that had now caused an advance of above 50 per cent and that if no restrictions were placed upon them they might force the price even to war figures.

The Black Point Claim

A sub-committee on private land claims to-day reported Rollins bill for the relief of the former occupants of Point San Jose or Black Point, a military reservation near San Francisco, with amendments limiting their right of recovering in the court of claims to the value of their improvements at the date when the military authorities took possession and wholly excluding from consideration their claim for the value of the lands. The house committee will it is intimated report adversely to the whole claim.

A Lie out Somewhere

Referring to Kelley's statement in the house yesterday Nath McCoy furnishes a letter denying most emphatically that he ever attempted to use improper or corrupt influence on Judge Kelley and intimated that Kelley had been called to account by his constituents and chose this avenue of escape. He expresses willingness to testify before any committee.

Decision Affirmed.

The secretary of the interior to day affirmed the decision in favor of the state in the case of John Gilson vs The State of California.

Fractional Silver

The scarcity of fractional silver is caused by its presentation for redemption under recent law. There are $21,000,000 of such coin in the treasury which will be exchanged at all sub-treasuries for United States notes when the appropriation is made for that purpose by congress.

Sherman's Financial Plan.

The secretary of the treasury says that he intends to weekly invest all revenue less actual expenditures, in the purchase of 5 and 6 per cents.

A Foolish Row.

Senator Hill's attempt to fasten on Kellogg a charge of blackmail in connection with a recent woman scandal is likely to produce an explosion from Kellogg in the senate.

Rejected Claims.

The house committee on war claims decided to report adversely upon thirty claims amounting in the aggregate to above $1,000,000.

THURSDAY'S DOINGS.

The Democrats Badly Demoralized Over the Political Assessment Bill.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, March 12.—In the house yesterday the democrats were in a very badly demoralized condition all through the session. Several members on that side wanted to speak and offer amendments to the pending bill and joined the republicans in an effort to secure more time, while others want so far as to vote for tabling the whole subject. Hostetter (democrat), of Indiana, who, for some inscrutable reason, was made by Speaker Randall chairman of the committee on reform in the civil service, and so has the bill in charge, is a man of no force or standing, and his bill is recognized, even on his own side of the house, as an unmitigated humbug. The democrats fight shy of Willetts of Michigan, who has loaded himself with facts on Hostetter's bill, which will likely damage them as much as his previous efforts.

CITY OF MEXICO March 9.—Gen Grant arrived at Puebla last night and was saluted by a salvo of artillery. The depot was decorated and crowded with people. Gen Grant was met by a government committee and subsequently by a committee from the city council. Position of the German Republicans

[From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.]

There are 700,000 German voters in this country 600,000 of them probably republican and 60,000 at a moderate estimate in New York. The party cannot afford to lose half of these numbers in the country at large or in the state of New York. It may whip in half of them but it is very likely to lose half if Grant is nominated.

POLITICAL

Sherman Writes a Letter

CHICAGO, March 12.—The following letter received by Mr Miller is explained:

WASHINGTON, March 10, 1880.

My Dear Sir: Your letter of the 8th inst in which you express your conviction that my retiring from the presidential race is likely to never fear that I have contemplated such a course. The rumor is absurd. My candidacy was promptly denied. The first public mention of my candidacy was the letter I have drawn from me by the Hon Mr Haskins of New York in which I stated what I would do in case of my nomination and election. Since that time I have been considered by the public as a candidate, and I have regarded myself with the purpose not to press my claims or to interfere with others. Friends have offered me. This I intend to occupy to the end. I did not think it necessary for me to belittle or arraign others. Senator Blaine or anyone else. I will not permit myself to do so from temptation. Very truly yours,

JOHN SHERMAN.

A Meeting against and a Victory for Grant in Missouri

ST LOUIS, March 12.—At an anti-Grant meeting held last night there was the greatest audience ever gathered in Mercantile Library Hall. Gen Jno B Henderson spoke an hour and a half declaring his opposition on patriotic grounds to perpetuating any administration. Maj Lucien Eaton then introduced the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the nomination of a presidential candidate for a third term is unwise, inexpedient and subversive of the traditions of our government and likely to endanger the success of the republican party.

Cheer followed cheer as this was seconded and adopted by acclamation.

The Grant men had a victory in the Missouri state committee in fixing the date of the republican convention.

Missouri Republican Convention

ST LOUIS, March 12.—The republican state convention will meet April 8th at Sedalia.

Ohio Republican Convention

COLUMBUS March 12.—The republican state convention meets April 28th.

A Little Victory for Blaine over Sherman

CHICAGO, March 12.—The Tribune's Columbus dispatch claims that in deciding upon April 28th as the date for the republican state convention, the executive committees in Ohio disregarded the interests and wishes of Sherman in favor of Blaine. That Sherman desired an early date fixed some time this month, while Blaine's friends were unanimous for a later date and secured it. Blaine's strength in the state committee was a surprise.

A Favorable View for Sherman.

WASHINGTON March 12.—Secretary Sherman has a very sanguine friend here who has just returned from a trip in the west. He states that he has been in all the large towns in the western states and is convinced that Sherman will receive at the Chicago convention on first ballot 10 votes from Indiana, 15 from Michigan, 12 from Illinois, 10 from Wisconsin and a solid vote from Minnesota, and from 8 to 12 from Iowa. He is very confident that Sherman will be nominated on the second ballot.

Sherman Gets "Assurance" from Ohio

Tilden's Orders.

It is stated that Tilden has issued orders for an early adjournment of Congress and a postponement of the Washburne Donnelly Minnesota election case until it is known whether Minnesota will be necessary to the democrats in order to secure the presidency.

The Democrats Anxious about Virginia.

Democrats are much concerned over the party in Virginia, where readjustment threatens to lose them the state. One prominent and life long democrat at a meeting of the state central committee said that he would support Grant rather than Tilden, and other members endorsed this announcement and another said that he would support Grant in preference to several prominently mentioned democratic candidates.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Kearney on Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Dennis Kearney was brought before the police court this morning. On appearing he stated that he was ready and desired neither jury nor counsel, and had no witnesses. The policeman who is the complaining witness in the case being temporarily absent looking for certain witnesses, the case was continued on motion of the prosecuting attorney, until to-morrow.

Everything was very quiet last night. A number of ordinary meetings were held of workingmen's ward clubs at which the Citizens' Protective Union and the arrest of Kearney were vigorously denounced. It is not learned that Kearney attended any of them. The executive committee of the union is said to have held a meeting during the day but nothing is known of the proceedings.

A Mission of Humanity.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The chamber of commerce at a special meeting to day adopted a memorial addressed to Horace Davis requesting the California congressional delegation to use their influence to obtain a small appropriation to be expended in chartering a steamer to go to the relief of the whaling vessels Vigilant and Mount Wollaston, caught by the ice in the Arctic ocean near Herald Island. The merchants propose in case a vessel is furnished, to provide everything in the way of stores, etc.

The Walking Match.

There are about 3000 at the pavilion this evening, and interest and enthusiasm is increasing with the closeness of the contest. Since about 3 o'clock this morning Weston has been off the track three hours, and O'Leary about two. O'Leary has not run at all during the day and is decidedly fresher than yesterday his only trouble being slight soreness of the feet. Weston is in perfect condition but has been quite sleepy during the day and has needed some spurring up to his work. To night he is running fast and within the last two hours has gained nearly three miles on his competitor. Very little betting is going on, the odds being about $10 to $6 or $7 in favor of O'Leary. It is conceded that neither of the men will cover 50 miles. At 9 P M the score stood O'Leary 438 Weston 420.

Indians Defeated by U. S. Troops

SAN FRANCISCO March 12.—A dispatch from Tucson Arizona, says that on February 28th thirty U S troops, under command of Lieuts Coulan and Clark, met and defeated thirty Indians in Alamos canyon in the Sacramento mountains, New Mexico. Their lodges and ponies were captured and taken to Fort Smith. The Indians are supposed to belong to Victoria's band.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Nanaimo Fire

NANAIMO March 11.—About 5 o'clock this morning flames were seen issuing from the buildings of the Vancouver coal company's machine and repairing shops. There are three repair shops and one engine house, all are large buildings. The tools nails ropes and stores were saved but all machinery etc is a total loss. The loss is estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000, not insured. The long railway bridge was on fire in different places and had it not been for the strenuous efforts of the firemen and citizens it would have been destroyed. The wind was blowing strong from the northwest and in one hour after the alarm the buildings were burnt down to the ground. It is believed to be the work of an incendiary.

A Male Incubator

[From the Hillsboro Independent.]

Mr and Mrs T B Handley of this place being practical woman suffragists having last year set their hen turkey and thinking that turn about was fair play, have this year set their turkey gobbler. He sits on the eggs and pushes them under him with his bill as carefully and sits as regularly as a hen. The turkey seems to think it the correct thing and goes quietly about her own business. The gobbler began to act of his own accord. The golden age of equal rights is dawning.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate

[illegible] of popular opinion will be swept away as with a rushing flood. I hope that this committee will be composed of the best, most patriotic and wisest men of the senate, and that all questions connected with this subject may be referred to them.

After debate Gordon and Groome withdrew their resolutions for a special committee and the resolution of Platt requesting the president to communicate to foreign governments the desire of this government to secure the neutrality of any transit route across the isthmus was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Allison demanded the regular order, taking the fortification bill and the senate committee reported amendments increasing the amount $ 000. Discussion ensued on the amendment.

Beck criticised the bill as inadequate but said that it was not possible to protect our sea coast all at once. It was now utterly defenseless but the bill would help put it in condition. But more should be done in view of possible complications in connection with the Monroe doctrine and with the projection of American railroads through Mexico. He would personally vote for an expenditure of $50,000,000 or $100,000,000 for our defense.

Wallace thought it strange for the government to change its policy and go to manufacturing large guns just as iron had risen so largely.

McPherson said in regard to memorials of certain contractors on ironclads for the passage of an appropriation to complete them he had learned that $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 had been expended on four or five vessels on propositions reading thus: "I propose to build a certain vessel (undescribed) in accordance with plans and specifications incomplete for a certain sum of money." The navy department accepted these propositions, made by favored contractors and spent millions of dollars on these vessels without knowing whether the vessels would float or not when completed. And in fact eminent boards of survey have reported that even reducing the weight of armor 17 per cent, one of them would sink at the dock when completed according to the plan of the contract. The vessels referred to are the Terror at Cramp's yard, the Monadnock at San Francisco, the Miantonomah and Puritan—the last named being at Roach's yard. A board composed at Lenthall and Isherwood, eminent men in the navy reported these facts—the Puritan being the special one referred to. It is fair to presume that the rest being built in the same general way are equally unfit. He thought in the face of the facts that the other side could not be charged with undue economy.

Windom charged that the democrats had been practicing a policy of cutting down appropriations to make a show of economy but afterwards brought in deficiency bills that brought the expenses up to the former figures.

The amendment was agreed to: yeas 47, nays 13. The bill then passed.

Kellogg sent to the clerk's desk and had read an extract from the Charleston News alleging that Jessie Raymond was brought to Washington by Kellogg for the purpose of influencing action on his contested election case.

Kellogg said that the article was false in every particular, denounced its authors as cowards and offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges.

Thurman asked if the senate had come to such degradation as to notice every newspaper article scandalizing a senator. When the resolution came up he should move to table it and let it sleep forever.

On motion of Wallace the star route deficiency bill was taken up. Adjourned till Monday.

House.

McMahon from the appropriation committee referred back the deficiency bill recommending $600,000 for marshals and deputies' fees making the total amount of the bill $1,[illegible]. No understanding was reached relative to the length of debate, Conger stating in answer to McMahon that four hours would suffice if no political riders were placed on the bill.

McMahon knew of none.

The vice president presented the president's message transmitting dispatches recently received from the consul at Shanghai, on slavery in China. Referred.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the deficiency bill.

McMahon said that the bill made no appropriation for special deputy marshals and he doubted if such appropriation would ever be made by the democrats. He asked why the expenses of the printing office were greater this year than any year since 1875?

Conger—The extra session.

McMahon said that it was due partly to that and partly to increased cost of paper, but chiefly to the large number of employes.

Hiscock said respecting McMahon's insinuation that whatever stealing might be done had been under the house committee on printing not under the public printer whom he defended as honest and economical. He was surprised at McMahon's declarations that the democrats did not propose to obey the decision of the supreme court and appropriate for special deputy marshals. He alluded to a similar issue raised by the last congress of starving the government to repeal the election laws. On that issue Fowler had beaten Ewing, and Garfield had been elevated in Ohio. He believed that the democracy would inevitably appropriate the pay of special deputies.

Finley also attacked the printing office as extravagant and said that Franklin Reeves offered to take the printing office and do all the printing, for 10 per cent of the present cost, pay $100,000 rent and make $1,5,000 by the transaction.

BILLS INTRODUCED

By Scales—To accept and ratify the agreement submitted by the Utes for the sale of their Colorado lands and appropriating $380,000.

By Covert—For the suppression of pleuro pneumonia in meat cattle. Adjourned.

GLADSTONE'S ADDRESS.

Plain and Severe Charges against the Prevailing Ministry

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

LONDON March 12.—Gladstone issues an address to the Midlothian electors. He says:

In an electioneering address by Lord Beaconsfield an attempt is made to work up your fears by dark allusions to a repeal of the union and the abandonment of the colonies. Those who endangered the union with Ireland were the party that maintained there an alien church, an unjust land law and franchises inferior to ours. As to the colonies the liberal administration gave them popular control, responsible governments, undertook to defend Canada with the whole strength of the empire and organized a great scheme for uniting the several settlements of British North America into one dominion. The present ministry have neglected home legislation, aggravated public distress by continued shocks to confidence and augmented public expenditure and taxation abroad. The ministry have endangered the royal prerogative by gross misuse, weakened the empire by needless wars, dishonored it in the eyes of Europe by filching Cyprus from the porte under a clandestine treaty, aggrandized Russia, lured Turkey to dismemberment and ruin, and loaded India with the cost of an unjustifiable war. The ministry has done nothing to improve our social condition. You are promised advantages of ascendancy in the councils of Europe. The word ascendancy is best known to us by its baneful connection with the history of Ireland. I must assert the equal rights of all independent allied powers, but in the mouth of the present ministry the claim is ridiculous. You have got this. I fear you and I do not doubt that Midlothian will discharge its duty.

TEACHERS IN COUNCIL

The teachers in the public schools of Washington and Yamhill counties met at Forest Grove on the 11th to the number of about sixty for the purpose of holding a district institute as required by law.

The first day's session was enthusiastic. D M C Gault leading off with remarks on the fundamental rules of arithmetic. He laid great stress upon the necessity of a thorough drill in addition because that is the rule most used in business life. He further pointed out that an object learned was always used. hat the addition of the partial products in multiplication and division of fractions should be drilled upon and numbers required but the needless multiplying of like orders.

State Superintendent Powell presented the subject of primary reading illustrating the subject by means of charts. He advocated the system known as the word method. Some objected that the country districts were not provided with charts. The speaker met [illegible]

NEHALEM COAL

Analyses by two Competent Experts—A Splendid Showing

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

ASTORIA, March 11, 1880.

The enterprising citizens of Astoria who have undertaken the development of the valuable mineral resources of Clatsop county and especially the coal fields of the Nehalem valley have received most encouraging reports from the various scientific mineralogists to whom they have submitted specimens for analysis. As the discovery of hidden wealth of untold value (especially when the treasure is of comparative easy access and in constant demand for the requirements of commerce) within the boundaries of our favored state is or ought to be of great interest to its inhabitants it will likely be gratifying to all bona fide Oregonians to know that they have at home a coal deposit which is to quote the words of one of the scientists referred to "really a superior coal to the best English cannel coal."

In addition to the analysis furnished by the Smithsonian Institute (which has already been published in THE OREGONIAN) the following letter has been received from Henry G Hanks analytical and practical assayer and geologist, San Francisco under date of the 5th inst:

I received your letter of February 18 and in due course of time the sample of coal for analysis. I find the coal to be remarkably good. It has a black streak or powder in which it differs from the common lignites of the Pacific coast. It cokes finely and has but small ash. The 18 per cent of water is an objection but it may be less as you go down on the vein. I send you samples of the coke and ash by captain of steamer. There are peculiarities about this coal that leads me to hope that it is true or carboniferous coal and I would advise you to look for fossils, and if you find any to send them down to me for examination.

If the coal you have sent me is in large quantities, it cannot fail to be of great commercial and economic value. The following is the analysis of the sample of Nehalem coal you sent me:

Fixed carbon 48, volatile combustible matter 35, water 13, ash 3.3—total 100.

HENRY G HANKS

The other letter is from a gentleman in the east whose life has been spent in constructing and running steam engines. As nothing has been said to him of publishing his letter we do not affix the writer's name at present, but will give it to the editor of THE OREGONIAN as proof of competency to form an opinion:

NEW YORK, Feb 2, 1880.

Yours of 5th received. I hope the coal is what it is claimed to be for what we do want most on this coast is a good coal. I had a letter from Mr —— to Mr Vilard about the same coal and its extraordinary percentage of volatile matter and tar led me to suppose that they had struck some kind of shale or cannel coal perhaps for instance cannel coal capable of giving 1500 cubic feet of gas to the ton.

Cannel (Wigan.)		Astoria (as per Smithsonian Inst Analysis.)
Water	3 00	Water	2 56
Volatile matter&tar	31 83	Volatile matter	46 29
Fixed carbon(coke)	60 83	Fixed carbon(coke)	48 43
Ash	4 84	Ash	2.74
	100 00		100 08

So you see that although the Astoria analysis has 05 per cent more than belongs to it (and by the by the one sent by Mr —— had lost 1 per cent somewhere), it is really a superior coal to best English cannel coal. * * * But your proposed test under a steam boiler is the commercial test and I would be much obliged for a copy of that test if you can conveniently send one.

About your red hermatite by all means send a sample with description of quantity of deposit distance of transportation, etc., as the company are now purposing to erect furnaces and a rolling mill. * * *

PENITENTIARY ADMINISTRATION.

SALEM Or., March 11, 1880.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In order to divert public attention from the extravagance of his administration of penitentiary affairs as compared with that of Mr Bush, in the matter of expenditures, Watkinds, complains that the present earnings of the prison are insignificant, and under the guise of taxpayer rides into the arena on his old hobby of making the penitentiary self-supporting and seems actually to labor under the hallucination that it was self-supporting while it was drawing from the state treasury an appropriation of some $40,000 per annum. We suggest that Mr Bush adopt for the nonce William's or his clerk's peculiar style of bookkeeping and to his earnings as reported last quarter, viz:

	$ 1 995 96
Add cash paid state treasurer	63 82
Bills and accounts receivable on hand	9 346 25
174 days trimming lamps etc at 50c	87 00
Convict labor imp farm and grounds	3 78 00
Convict labor on tannery shoe shop factory, mill race, etc	3 0 00
Brick dirt on hand	360 00
Total earnings	$19 902 03

Which after deducting the expenses for the quarter leaves a handsome profit to the state. The great advantages of this style of bookkeeping is that the oftener you make a report the greater profits you pile up for the state.

But seriously, I think the most important question of the prison problem is solved when the expense of keeping prisoners is reduced to a minimum and it is vain to hope that the state will receive a revenue from its 200 criminals who must be watched and fed at the public expense.

The millennial dawn may bring us exemption from tax for the erection and support of prisons but I doubt if the time will ever come when our penitentiaries will be prepared to declare annual dividends.

Otto Smith one of the men working at the Cove, his sawmill was seriously injured a day or two since by getting one of his feet badly ... and Harry Coulthard engineer at the same mill fell down the stairs at the mill and nearly broke his back.

From Lola: All the grain has been shipped from this place except about 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of oats. Our roads are in sore disorder and in need of repairing, as the wear and tear during the winter has been more than they could endure.

From Damascus: Our school election passed off quietly. Mr John C McMurray was elected director and E F Elliott clerk. A tax of 5 mills was voted for a six months school. The weather is better and farmers are trying to clear up from the great storm. Fall crops look well and if we do not have a late spring there will be a very large acreage of spring wheat.

William Reid, president of the Oregon Railway company, has submitted to the people of Albany a proposition to extend the Dayton & Sheridan road to that city. He offers to build it if they will build a bridge and pay $40,000, one third of the $40,000 payable when the road reaches that city, another third payable one year thereafter and the last third payable when the road is in operation from Albany to Portland. The road would be built to a point opposite the city of Albany and will be built across the river whenever the people would build a bridge for it. The Democrat says: When Mr Reid's proposition to bring the road to this city for $40,000 and a bridge was read a blank came over the meeting. Only $20,000 was asked for when the broad gauge road came here, and for a narrow gauge to ask for $130,000 to $140,000 was thought to be rather out of place. Our people will make a liberal donation to the road, but they cannot afford to pay any such sum as that asked for by Mr Reid.

The discussion which THE OREGONIAN has set on foot concerning taxation, schools etc is extending all over the state. Mr S E Wilcox of Wapato Washington county, writes as follows to the Hillsboro Independent: We had our annual school meeting to day. The tax was voted down because the law allows deduction for indebtedness. The law will ruin our free school system in this state. If all the property in the school district cannot be taxed for school purposes we might as well have no school law. The taxpayers will vote it down at every meeting. They say they can't stand to pay so much tax when there is so little got from the property taxed in the district. This tax question is getting to be the main question in this state. I think there will be something done to regulate taxation at the next legislature. There is too much hid away and is not taxed at all. Our system is not a good one. There is too much speculating in lands and too much land held by speculators when it is only assessed at half prices, and their indebtedness clears them from taxation. I don't believe this is right. If a man has a mind to go in debt it is no reason why I should pay any higher tax by his indebtedness, and I guess we won't do it much longer.

DILHARREE DISASTER.

The Stranded Vessel a Hopeless Wreck—She is Rapidly Going to Pieces

Timely Assistance Rendered by the Corwin—Capt Moore's Memoranda.

STATEMENT OF PILOT HEWITT

A dispatch from Astoria last evening says: The British bark Dilharree is rapidly going to pieces.

THE OREGONIAN'S regular correspondent at Astoria writes as follow under date of 11th:

The revenue cutter Corwin appears always to be in the right place at the right time. Returning from a cruise south yesterday, she sighted the Dilharree ashore flying a signal for assistance. She steamed round to the north channel and sent a boat alongside but found she could do nothing more than to lay by her all night.

To day when the seas were breaking over the doomed vessel her boat made four trips alongside and transferred the crew and all their personal effects from the wrecked ship furnished them with comfortable quarters and brought them to Astoria, providing for them until Captain Moore ascertained how best to dispose of them.

As the unfortunate vessel is now the property of the underwriters ship and cargo having been fully insured Captain Moore is awaiting answers to the telegram he has sent for instructions as to his future actions. The captain's statement will be of interest to all shipmasters and all others whose business is intimately connected with shipping interests. Your correspondent therefore forwards to you the memoranda referring to the disaster which Captain Moore very kindly furnished on application.

THE CAPTAIN'S STATEMENT

BAKERS BAY, March 10.—Wind NNW light, at 11 A M weighed anchor with pilot on board and proceeded in tow of two steamtugs for sea. About 11 30 vessel came to ground, sticking heavily helm hard aport two men at wheel ordered tugs to lay further out on starboard bow and set after sails vessel's head SW found vessel did not move commenced getting cargo out to lighten ship sounded round ship, found 19 feet all round threw grain overboard till 1 P M. The ebb being away stopped the cargo. Sounded pumps, found 6 inches in well.

At 1 10—S eam tugs left ship one proceeding up to Astoria for assistance. The ebb now making down very strong causing the vessel to strike ground very heavily hauled down the after sails.

2 P M—Sounded pumps found 7½ inches in well. Made ready tow line for next tide.

At 3 P M—Sounded pumps 6¼ inches. Cape Hancock lighthouse bearing NW ½ N and McKenzie's Head NW ¾ W magnetic.

5 30—Commenced again jettising cargo in expectation of getting off next tide.

7 P M—Strong wind from WNW. Received Stevedore McCabe on board with 15 men to help throw cargo. Sounded pumps found 7 inches. Vessel working heavily.

8 P M—Same water. Cape Hancock light NW ¼ N and Point Adams light SE by E, magnetic.

8.15—Wind very strong from WNW and sea making. Ship's head W by S. The flood tide now being making thought it prudent to stop the cargo and let go starboard anchor for fear of ship forging further on sand. Sounded pumps every ¼ hour, making little or no water.

11 P M—Vessel striking ground very heavily found 9 inches in wells set on pumps and got very little water from them.

March 11 1 A M—Ship's head N N E. Ship upright sounded pumps, 10 inches in well.

1 30 P M—Found ship drifting on sand and let go port anchor. Hancock light N W ¼ W. Sent up rocket for assistance none came weather being very bad and blowing hard.

3 A M—Same water in well vessel laying more steady.

6 A M—Signaled for assistance.

8 A M—Two tugs sent boat alongside and took off stevedore's men and ship's papers and chronometers.

9 A M—Sea breaking over all got tackles ready for getting out the boats. Cape Hancock light house bearing W by N; Sea now running very strong.

10 A M—Sounded on both quarters found 16 feet made ready tow-line aft in case ship might be hauled off.

11 A M—Sounded pumps, 10 inches in well. Hoisted flag at main for tug to stand by if possible to tow ship off. Sounded round the ship 1 feet aft and amidships.

11 30—Vessel lying with her port deck in the water seas making clean breach over her.

3 30 P M—Got life boat of revenue cutter Corwin alongside which took several of the crew to the ship also lowered our own boat and put others aboard tug. Sounded pumps at 1 P M and 3 feet in well ship lying on her beam ends.

4 P M—Vessel still the same. Sounded pumps myself found 4 feet water in well. Deemed it necessary to leave her went aboard tug and landed in Astoria at 6 30 P M.

STATEMENT BY PILOT HEWITT

After getting under way ship made one wide sheer. I then gave orders to men at the wheel to keep off of the starboard tug. I then ordered men to loose after sails and stand by for setting. Parted the helm hard to port. Peacock split then afterwards hard a port. The vessel did not answer her helm readily set after sails and ordered the tugboat more to starboard. By that time she fetched up on bottom. Ordered the tugs to pull still more to starboard but they did not succeed in getting ship off.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 13 1880.

EUROPEAN MILITARY EXPENSES.

Paris correspondence of the London Times furnishes an interesting comparison of the budgets, national debts and military expenditure of European states in 1865 and 1879. The statement begins with Germany. During this period of fourteen years her financial requirements have more than doubled. In 1865 she could get on with a budget of $155,000,000. She now finds it no easy task to satisfy her needs with $330,000,000. At this time the heaviest budgets in Europe are those of France and Russia. France requires $595,000,000 and Russia $535,000,000, the latter being about $100,000,000 in excess of the budget of Great Britain. In 1865 Russia, like Germany, required less than half as much money as now. Every European state has increased its expenditures greatly since 1861, the total of such increase being nearly one thousand millions of dollars.

Of all the European states England and Holland alone show any diminution of their debts since 1865; and in the case of each of these the amount is small. Russia has increased her debt from $1,040,000,000 to the more aristocratic figure of $3,000,000,000, and the proportional increase of the debts of Spain and Italy closely follows hers. France now has the heaviest debt of all. The figures of military expenditure are most important of all, because they show the means through which these debts have been so vastly increased. Russia spends on her army $190,000,000, France $135,000,000, Germany $105,000,000 and England $160,000,000. True, they all spend much less in proportion to their armies than we do. We spend on 30,000 men one third as much as Germany spends on 400,000. No exchequer could support our extravagance, if applied on an extended scale.

This is what "balance of power" costs Europe. All industry is crushed to maintain such a system. Coleridge and other writers have argued that the expenditure for standing armies is not money lost, since it furnishes employment for industry in other directions; but the position is an erroneous one for the plain reason that consumption without production is waste, and whatever is converted into material of war is of no use for any other purpose, and soon is totally destroyed. Gunpowder is burnt and exists no more, but the plow is worn out in producing what is of value in itself. War material is produced at a cost which brings no return, while the produce of industry in other forms affords a basis for new development of wealth, in an infinite and constantly ascending series.

Our own country has paid an enormous price for national unity, but when it looks at the condition of Europe it may see very clearly what it has gained. Had secession been permitted to succeed we should now be maintaining on both sides very large standing armies eating up the substance of the people. Moreover there would be a long line of costly fortresses, heavily garrisoned, to maintain, and there would be the conflict of opposing interests and the acerbities of hatred which would keep the country in continual fear of war. The condition of Europe shows how good an investment it was to put down our rebellion.

THE TWO-THIRDS RULE.

The democratic national convention, held at [illegible] in 1876, adopted the following resolution:

> Resolved, That the states be requested to instruct their delegates to the national democratic convention to be held in 1880, whether it be desirable to continue the two-thirds rule longer in force in the national convention, and that the national committee insert such request in the call for the next convention.

The chances may be considered good that this will lead to the abrogation of this undemocratic and anti-republican rule in democratic national conventions. It was only invented to keep power in the hands of the south and defeat the old free soil democrats. It has survived slavery in the interest of which it was adopted, for many years—a fact which, with a multitude of others which shows how loyal this party has been to the memory of slavery even after slavery itself, which it was once fired to uphold, has long passed away. The rule is among the last relics of the dominance of the slave power in politics. It was among the most effective means to suppress the sentiment of freedom in the democratic party of the north. Through the power of this despotic and iron rule, no northern democratic statesman could hope to be president who did not profess to believe in the desirability of slavery. It is said that it will now be abolished in the interest of Mr. Tilden. It would seem to be unnecessary to keep it any longer as an historical mark of the base servitude of the democratic party to the slave power.

When a southern state gets badly into debt and doesn't want to pay, her legislators hit on the idea of "readjustment" and proceed to put it into operation. This "readjustment" process is like a jug with one handle, it is all on one side. The creditor of the "sovereign" state is told that the time has come when he should "scale down" that "little bill" he holds against the commonwealth—in other words, that he must submit to being robbed of a portion of his just dues. Thus "readjustment," so called, becomes a euphemism for robbery. Virginia, the boasted mother of presidents, whose blue-blooded children have in times past proudly affixed the mysterious symbols "F. F. V." to their names, is the last state which has asserted that "might makes right," and legalized robbery. In the legislature, a bill has been passed which cuts off about ten millions of the state debt and reduces the interest on the balance to three per cent. On this measure the democratic party is "all tore up," and this it is which causes the fear in democratic circles that the state will be lost in the presidential election.

Mr. Jefferson Davis has undertaken to settle a vexed historical question. His contribution to the truth of history is made in the shape of a photograph taken in the identical clothes worn when he was captured. Davis has sent this picture to the authorities of Mississippi, with a letter in which he says that when he left his tent he wore a "waterproof raglan and a shawl about his head and shoulders." When he met a cavalryman of the federal army he dropped the raglan and shawl and thus appeared before his captors in the exact costume represented in the photograph, with the exception of a pair of spurs which had been stolen from him after his capture. Those who pictured the fugitive in the garb of a woman were not far from the truth, after all.

Contractors who have undertaken to furnish ties for the O. & R. N. Co. find great difficulty in obtaining workmen. Repeated advertising, followed up by other efforts, has failed to secure the required number. In the towns there are "professional workingmen" enough, but their time is so taken up with holding meetings to give expression to their fears lest the Chinese may do some work, that they can do little else. Actual workingmen are scarce, as any one finds who wishes to employ any considerable number.

In the estimates for the coming fiscal year, as laid before the Dominion parliament, an appropriation of one million dollars is asked for the British Columbia railway.

Southern Democratic Delegates.

[Washington Special to New York Times.

There are many and growing indications that the controversy in regard to the presidential candidates will, among southern delegates to the national democratic convention, be one of the most stormy and bitter ever known. There seems to be now no doubt that Mr. Tilden's candidacy will prove the chief bone of contention. That he has any idea of withdrawing, no well informed politician from the southern states for a moment believes.

Tilden at Cincinnati.

[From the New York Tribune, March 7.]

The number of rooms which Tilden has secured at Cincinnati is now said to be over 500, and his agents are still looking for more. He probably wishes to pay the expenses of all delegates, and it is only the square thing for him to do so. They go there to do his work, and he ought to pay them for their trouble, as well as to pay their board. If the nomination is worth anything it is worth that.

[illegible] Judge B[illegible] [illegible] Have [illegible] Moody [illegible]

[illegible] perhaps it would do [illegible] says Richelieu [illegible] mercy [illegible] New Judge [illegible] hard in a [illegible] mercy [illegible] for his natural [illegible] put yourself in [illegible] place

Judge B[illegible] an what [illegible] case to demand mercy at [illegible] hands [illegible] been discharged from the penitentiary [illegible] a few weeks and hardly been accustomed [illegible] wearing [illegible] dress when [illegible] two [illegible] robbed

Moody did [illegible] want the judge to get [illegible] him so he jumped to his feet again His first speech was [illegible] a pious prayer meeting [illegible] He [illegible] a tragic attitude and delivered [illegible] following with [illegible] his command

> The quality of mercy is not strained
> It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
> Upon the place beneath It is twice blessed
> It blesseth him that gives and him that takes
> 'Tis mightiest in the mightiest it becomes
> The throned monarch better than his crown
> His sceptre shows the force of temporal power
> The attribute to awe and majesty
> Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings
> But mercy is above this sceptered sway
> It is enthroned in the hearts of kings
> It is an attribute to God Himself
> And earthly power doth then show likest God's
> When mercy seasons justice Therefore Judge
> Though justice be thy plea consider this —
> That in the course of justice none of us
> Should see salvation I do pray for mercy
> And that same prayer doth teach us all to render
> The deeds of mercy

The speech so wrought on the feelings of the judge that he sentenced Moody to ten years' imprisonment in the state prison five years on each charge —the fullest extent of the law

But Moody got even with him He jumped to his feet a second time and in his loudest tones shouted Never mind judge old mother Shipton says the world will come to an end in 1881 and you bet your life we'll then be on an even keel

Above the laughter which followed was heard the voice of Judge Bellinger ordering the sheriff to remove the prisoner

THE FERRY AND BRIDGE CASE

Full Text of the Decision

[illegible]

This [illegible] restrain [illegible] Oak street [illegible] line of [illegible] Willamette river [illegible] city of Portland [illegible] further asking that the defendants [illegible] roadways [illegible] wharf [illegible] damages [illegible] the injury [illegible] said street [illegible]

The plaintiff [illegible] owner [illegible] blocks lying immediately [illegible] of Oak street

That [illegible] block lying immediately [illegible] said Oak street and the same [illegible] of the rear [illegible] premises and that they have [illegible] opposite said premises [illegible] north in front of the street [illegible] Oak street extending [illegible] river [illegible] two roadways [illegible] they built said wharf [illegible] No [illegible]

That [illegible] between the east line of [illegible] street and [illegible] Willamette river is graded [illegible] foundation [illegible] grounds [illegible] will be injured [illegible] places building [illegible] and ex[illegible] ungraded [illegible] J B Price and Rines and Newell [illegible] street will be [illegible] wharves from [illegible] Oak street

Rines and Newell whose also complain of defendant for attempting to dig and tear down and destroy said roadways therein and the wharf in front of the south half of said street

It is further [illegible] state that no actual damage has been shown to have been sustained by the digging [illegible] heretofore done by the defendants The object of the defendants in digging, etc being to test the validity of ordinance No [illegible] and to ascertain by the decision of the courts the respective rights of plaintiffs as adjoining property holders and the power of the municipality to grant the easement of public streets to the exclusive use and benefit of private individuals

The defendants claim the right to use the street as a ferry landing under a charter of the legislature of the territory of Oregon passed January 17 1852 and as an incident to that franchise, the right to grade down the street so as to make it suitable for such landing That the accommodation of public travel over the Willamette river requires that they should use the terminus of Oak street as a ferry landing They also present as a separate and independent defence their right as members of the general public to travel over the said street and they complain that said wharf and roadway so erected are nuisances and may be abated by any one desiring to use said portion of said street as a highway

Upon the trial below the court there found That Oak street in the city of Portland extending to the Willamette river is a public highway and that the wharf and roadway situated at the foot of said street is an obstruction to said highway that defendants are the owners of the ferry franchise and have good right and authority to land their ferry boats at the foot of said Oak street and to so grade the foot of said Oak street as to render the same a suitable roadway between Front street and the Willamette river for all purposes of public travel and have the right to move said wharf and roadways and thereupon dismissed plaintiff's suit from which findings and decree the plaintiffs appeal to this court.

OPINION BY BOISE

The defendants, A J and Levi Knott claim the right to grade the foot of Oak street in the city of Portland to make it convenient to be used by them as a ferry landing for their ferry which plies across the Willamette river between West and East Portland

They now have one fixed landing for their ferry at the foot of Stark street which is the next street south of Oak street and about 200 feet from it But they claim that the increase of business on their ferry requires additional means of transportation and that to accommodate the travel they want to put on another line of boats and make a landing at said Oak street The ferry franchise under which the Knotts claim was granted to James B Stephens by an act of the legislature of the late territorial government of Oregon and they have the right by purchase from Stephens and claim that under this franchise they have the exclusive right of ferriage for one mile each way up and down the river from their present landing at said Stark street The appellants claim that the Knotts have the right to only a single ferry and one line of boats and if they wish to establish another line they must get a right to do so by a license from the county court under the general laws regulating ferries in this state

It becomes necessary therefore, for us to construe said act of the territorial legislature to determine the extent of the franchise granted by it. The act is as follows

An act to authorize James B Stephens to establish a horse or steamboat ferry across the Willamette river

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oregon—That James B Stephens his heirs and assigns be and they are hereby authorized to establish and keep a ferry across the Willamette river at the city of Portland in Washington county to the county of Clackamas on the east side of said river opposite within the following limits Commencing at a point in said city of Portland at the junction of —— street the present ferry landing of said Stephens and to land on, and deposit from each shore of said river, as well in the county of Clackamas due east of said point of commencing as in the county of Washington and extending from said points up and down said river on each side thereof one mile each and that said James B Stephens has the exclusive privilege of ferrying in Washington and Clackamas counties within the above limits for the period of ten years Provided That said ferry when so established shall be subject to the same regulations and under the same restrictions as other ferries are or may hereafter be by the laws of this territory fixing the rates of toll and prescribing the manner in which licensed ferries shall be kept and regulated

Sec 2 That no courts or board of county commissioners shall authorize any person except as hereinafter provided for in this act to keep a ferry within the limits set out in this act provided that the said James B Stephens his heirs or assigns shall within eighteen months after the passage of this act procure for said ferry a good and sufficient horse or steam ferryboat which shall be kept at said ferry for the transportation of all persons and their property across said river without delay and no [illegible] said ferryboat shall be provided as aforesaid the said James B Stephens shall keep at said ferry a good and sufficient number of flatboats with a sufficient number of hands to work the same for the transportation of all persons and their property across said river (when possible) without delay and should the laws regulating ferries now or such as hereinafter may be in force be violated by said James B Stephens his heirs or assigns or if a good and sufficient horse or steam ferryboat be not provided at the time required by this act upon proof thereof to be made to the satisfaction of the board of county commissioners or probate courts of the counties of Washington and Clackamas then this grant shall be void

Sec 3 This act [illegible] take effect and be in force from and after its passage

Passed the house of representatives Jan 15 1852

Passed the council Jan 1[illegible] 1852

We are not authorized in construing this act to extend the grant in favor of the grantee beyond the fair and natural import of the language used for when the legislature grants a franchise which is in the nature of a monopoly and which necessarily to some extent restricts the power of future legislatures nothing is to be presumed beyond the express words of the grant. [illegible] Constitutional Lim [illegible] 394.

In this case the manifest intention of the legislature was to grant Stephens a right to keep a ferry from certain fixed points and provided that said ferry when so established should be subject to the same regulations and other ferries [illegible] rates of toll The act grants [illegible] exclusive right of ferrying for ten years within the limits of two miles [illegible] than one ferry [illegible] another ferry would have been [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] since the expiration of [illegible] the act the Knotts have [illegible] one ferry right under the same [illegible] on Stark street [illegible] Learn 2 Oregon [illegible] part of the road and [illegible] highway and within [illegible] change [illegible] with [illegible]

[illegible]

We will next [illegible] whether the plaintiff [illegible] [illegible] city and [illegible] are [illegible] defendants restrain [illegible] grade [illegible] street so as to render access to their property more difficult

The first of these propositions is simply a question of law and we think it not necessary to decide it in this case [illegible] discussed we will not express an opinion thereon at this time

As to the second proposition [illegible] to the power of the city to grant a [illegible] the street by the plaintiffs [illegible] roadway we think the city authorities have under their charter full

PORTLAND SEAMEN'S BETHEL

[illegible]

Appropriate [illegible] to make social and [illegible]

[illegible] Belle France [illegible] Great Britain and [illegible] the sacred [illegible] Bethel [illegible] [illegible]

THE BLUE PETER AND WHITE JACK.

No [illegible] signal [illegible] to the seamen of the world was the blue peter and the white jack The former of these two is a plain blue flag with a white square center Its name may be a corruption of the French word partir as [illegible] Thursday's ORE[illegible] It is the universally recognized signal in all ports in the world when hoisted at the fore announcing the immediate departure of the vessel hoisting it the time of leaving being generally fixed to suit the tides and hence probably has arisen the traditional idea that a dying person will usually hold out until the tide begins to ebb

The white jack frequently called the pilot jack when hoisted at the fore is the signal that a pilot is desired by the vessel hoisting it Approaching the channels bays and ports of commerce this flag renders invaluable service to our shipping interests by securing the needed aid of pilots to enter difficult harbors to cross dangerous bars, or to guide them to safe shelter on dangerous coasts when deemed to be necessary in the prospect of adverse gales or impending storms

To the numerous Bethel laborers of the world there is a deep spiritual and tender association [illegible] connected with the use of these flags for many weary storm tossed seamen annually drift into the Bethels of the world [illegible] and while [illegible] and [illegible] there are led to hoist the white jack at the fore by raising the [illegible] or rising for prayers and thus by prompt and faithful pilots duly qualified and licensed are guided through the main channel of grace to the Friend of publicans and sinners.

In Portland during the last two seasons nearly a hundred such cases have come to notice Some of these remain with us and are members of the Christian churches of our city but most of them have hoisted the blue peter and sailed away with the ebbing tides but we shall meet them and greet them again by the grace of God when the sea shall give up its dead

A FAMILY GATHERING

The meeting last evening was a family and social gathering of an exceptional type The presence of mothers—who were not deterred from being present because of the infants they brought with them—also sisters and brothers as well as fathers and batchelors gave an air of home sweet home to the occasion which is exceedingly grateful to those who go down to the sea in ships —who for such long periods are cooped up in the bleak atmosphere of a ship's forecastle

The lunch and the literary entertainments as also the chaplain's address on the aims and fruits of the temperance and religious work of the Bethel were well received, and [illegible] the pleasure of this agreeable and profitable occasion

Thanks are hereby returned to Monsieur L Abbe the French vice consul to Mr James Laidlaw and to Capt. Hancock of the ship Ainsree for the use of their flags also to Mr Fictland of the Burton House, and to Mr Lewiston of the Minnesota House,

A vote of thanks by all present was returned to Mr H O Marvin, for his excellent readings

Our indebtedness to the press of Portland for their repeated kindnesses cannot be repaid by the sincere thanks hereby tendered to them in behalf of the lodge by

SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 13 1880

REPUBLICAN PRESS OPINIONS

[From the Philadelphia Press Rep

Only Grant's enemies if he has any can have pleasure in the humiliations which his professed friends persist in putting upon him. Is there no one sufficiently faithful in his friendship to the ex-President to tell him the actual facts that his name may be removed from his unseemly scramble? Surely no rational man can hold the idea that any considerable proportion of the republican party in the republican states desire his nomination

[From the South Bend Ind Tribune

There is one thing about Mr Washburne that makes his nomination desirable and that is the heartiness with which all republicans would unite in his support. There would be no jealousies heart-burnings nor lukewarm adherence but a strong united enthusiastic support that would give us the liveliest and most assuring campaign we have had since 1868. Washburne is no longer a "dark horse" in the contest. His nomination is as certain as fate if Grant or Blaine fail on the first or second ballots.

[From the Albany N Y Journal]

The expression for instruct[illegible] was forced the expression against them was spontaneous. As a Grant "boom" it was a failure as an anti Grant barometer it was a success. If half the labor and machinery employed to give the convention to Grant had been expended for Blaine more complimentary results would have followed instead of developing Grant's strength it cast a shadow upon it. If any one before this convention was held believed that Grant's nomination would excite greater enthusiasm than that of any other name, he must now think differently. Even Blaine's name was received with more enthusiasm than Grant's in the galleries and lobbies and the enthusiasm, more than once fairly startled the delegates by its spontaneity and vehemence. Grant's strength was the result of political manipulation the enthusiasm for Blaine was the irrepressible offering of admiring friends. The contrast was as marked as it was unexpected and was an unwelcome revelation to those who had been for months preparing for the occasion

From the Dayton (Ohio) Journal]

After a thorough reading of the several reports of the New York republican convention we were forced to the conclusion that the nomination of Gen Grant at Chicago in a way that he can accept, is impossible. It is plain that he can only get it without grave and bitter contention and it will be manifest to his friends that a nomination of Blaine can only be accomplished after a most bitter contest with the friends of Conkling and Cameron, and that the republican delegates will be too wise to offer victory to the democrats on such easy terms. Hence it follows that Sherman Washburne or some other man not now a candidate will be nominated. A division in a New York state convention of 170 for Blaine and only 216 for Grant, with all his prestige and all the power of Conkling to press it, is certainly not calculated to inspire sagacious politicians with hope in a third term. We are not reasoning from our desires, but from long experience of political affairs. While we are apprehensive that the head strong men of the party may get control of the convention and make a disastrous blunder we are yet encouraged to hope for the best by the fact that Republicans have usually managed their conventions sagaciously.

[From the Utica N Y Herald]

The convention, it will be remembered was called in mid-winter, to permit the republicans of New York to express their wild and outbursting zeal for the ex-President as a candidate for renomination. The delegates came together and the managers were astounded to discover that the republicans, instead of clamoring for any such policy, were greatly disturbed at the attempt to force it upon them. The organization of the party has been strained at every point to force a declaration in favor of the third term. Senator Conkling is brought all the way from Washington to direct that declaration and to give it emphasis. The country, and especially the republicans of the nation, will understand the result. Instead of that unanimity, which alone can bestow value on an expression in behalf of a candidate, a majority in favor of instructions for Gen Grant was extorted only after the most painful labors. That majority is nothing for the managers to brag over. In a vote of 410, they get 215 for Grant to 180 against instructions, leaving fifteen delegates not voting. Let it be noted besides that the whole of the majority recorded comes from the city of New York, where the republicans are buried under a majority of 50 000. From that city of fifty-six delegates only ten voted against instructions and the [illegible] Grant majority in the delegation exceeds [illegible] of that side of the controversy. In other words, of the delegates [illegible] after the contested seats [illegible] to the sweet will of the managers [illegible] outside of New York City shows a preponderance of eleven votes against instructions [illegible]. The counties which must furnish the [illegible] the state if it is to be carried, protest [illegible] against burdening them with delegates [illegible] in favor of the ex President. The [illegible] who claimed to exercise dictation [illegible] to open their eyes to this very significant fact. They stopped their ears to the warning as though the air was full of voices for Blaine; [illegible] the very walls of the Opera House were [illegible] with applause whenever his name was [illegible], the policy of instructions for another [illegible] was persisted in.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following special report, of the real estate [illegible] is furnished THE OREGONIAN by Clark & [illegible], real estate brokers and architects:

The records of the past week show 24 transactions, aggregating $69 [illegible], as against 34, and $24 [illegible] the week previous, being a decrease of 10 in number and an increase of $34,131 03 in amount. At the beginning of the present week a Portland journal made the statement that the real estate owners of Portland are endeavoring to make a boom in the real estate market. Our observations and careful inquiries have convinced us that the charge rests on no foundation whatever. Experienced real estate agents are aware of the fact that a boom or feverish excitement in real estate is invariably followed by a collapse which for a longer or shorter period destroys their business. Hence we prefer a steady market with permanence to an inflated one with a certain speedy termination. We know of no real estate agent save ourselves who has written on the subject and our reports have been carefully prepared transcripts of actual sales. If the recording of those facts has been an attempt to get up a boom, then a boom has been [illegible]. Otherwise we deny the allegation. Had we deemed it desirable we could have made comparative exhibits of the rates prevailing in San Francisco and in Oakland, Cal., and could have incontestably demonstrated the fact that the prices of both business and residence properties are held at very much lower rates here than there. Even after allowing for all differences of population and commercial importance, we claim for Portland that its prospects for steady growth and increasing prosperity are not excelled, if equaled, by those of any city on the Pacific slope. The condition of the real estate market is firm and generally satisfactory.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted until death be comes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence

LIVER PILLS,

[illegible]

Hepatitis or Liver Complaint

[illegible]

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side under the edge of the ribs increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low, and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative they are unequaled

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

The genuine are never sugar coated

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS on the wrappers

Insist upon having the genuine DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS prepared by Fleming Bros of Pittsburgh Pa the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation
